Artist Statement

It is an encounter at the table with a book. Under your fingers are sheets of white paper. They are pages going to be touched and also spaces to be opened. On the paper are words in black, page after page, quietly developing my memory on your mind. Through reading, touch and observation of the surroundings, you, who are both reader and audience, connect the past to the present. The work is presented in Barry Room; it is also about here and, exclusively, belongs here.

Site-specific work In Here portrays a moment in 2015 in which I visited an exhibition with my mother and her caretaker Siti in Barry Room at Taipei Artist Village. Composed of multiple materials including pages, text, photo, found objects and the site, In Here places a fragment of history of the space into its presentness. It invites the passerby to take a seat alone and reach the intimate moment in my memory.
